

16 CRISP $1,000 RAINEY NOTES GO TO BOOKIES

Owner of Toots Mook
Lost Heavily on Filly's
Disqualification.

BY T. O. PIPER.

BELMONT PARK, June 1.—The disqualification of Toots Mook yesterday cost Millionaire Paul Rainey, owner of the filly, exactly $1,000. That was the amount to a dollar bet on her. The large investment meant, with the principal and winnings combined, a loss of $20,000. To-day several of Mr. Rainey's commissioners, who were active in placing his wagers, on the marker system, no money being paid one way or the other until the following day, went among the dealer bookies making paying off the money. One commissioner was handed sixteen crisp one thousand dollar bills. The difference between the $10,000 lost on Toots Mook represented another losing wager on Inquirer.

Paul Rainey is one of the controlling factors in the Cote Trust. His claims in that direction came by inheritance, for he is a very young man to be in possession of so many millions and prestige. He is tall, smooth faced and rose cheeked, hardly past his thirties, in fact, he has reached the thirty mark.

He regarded the disqualification of his filly yesterday in just the same manner he paid his bets today, with a bang and a boom. He was a revelation. He was not only a horse owner, but a sportsman, and a sportsman's mates, friends and acquaintances expressed sympathy when the judges declared Toots Mook disqualified.

"How much do I owe the gentlemen of the ring?" asked young Mr. Rainey of his chief commissioner today, prior to the first race. "Sixteen thousand dollars, sir," answered the commissioner, whereat Mr. Rainey produced a check for sixteen thousand dollars, saying, "I owe you a few more thousands." The commissioner spent an hour in the ring paying off.

The Havana Jockey Club has made an offer to the Western Union Association for the steel frame of the grandstand at Morris Park, as the racing property is to be cut up by officials of the Havana Jockey Club. The move followed a close observation of the actions in the saddle of a certain jockey who is well known. The stewards to-day required that bookmakers' sheets on the second race, where two-year-olds were entered, be taken up and inspected. PHOTOGRAPHS ON MAN FOUND IN RIVER

The body of a well dressed man believed to be known in Brooklyn was found floating in the North River off Southern Boulevard last afternoon. The body had been in the water about three months, and other than some photographs the only thing that might lead to an identification was a card which was engraved "Mrs. Henry Lowry (Beaver) No. 124 Deane street, Brooklyn." On the back was written "Lovely yours, December 26, 1902."

Two of the photographs were of a pretty young woman in different poses. A third photograph was of a young man. At the name of the photographs "Doris," New York. They were in a leather case, in which was the calling card of Mrs. Howell. They had been protected fairly well during their long immersion owing to the fact that a pair of yellow ducking gloves were also in the breast pocket with the case and acted as an extra covering.

The man was about fifty years old, 5 feet 6 inches tall and weighed 125 pounds. His features could not be clearly discerned, but he had large and prominent front teeth. His clothes were of the best material. He wore a black, silk-lined overcoat, coat and vest of gray mixture, pepper and salt trousers and a blue and white striped shirt with a collar and black silk tie. His shoes were black and laced and over them were new rubbers.

The body was given a preliminary inspection by Coroner MacDonald and his physician, Dr. J. J. Connelley. They decided that no signs of violence were apparent, but an autopsy will be held later. The body is at the morgue of Fordham Hospital. Meanwhile the police are trying to locate Mrs. Howell.

NEW 'PHONE CO. FIGHTS COURT TO LAY WIRES

the city streets for their wires and thus argued this afternoon before Justice Hackett in the Supreme Court the motion for a preliminary writ of mandamus directing Commissioner Ellison to grant a permit to the Great Eastern Telephone Company to lay conduits in the city streets for their wires and thus give the city the benefit of a competitive telephone service.

The application was opposed by Assistant Corporation Counsel William P. Burr on the ground that the franchise of the New York Electric Lines Company, granted under a resolution of the Board of Aldermen in 1883, had lapsed. The Attorney-General has rendered an opinion that the franchise in general is still alive, but Corporation Counsel Delany, in an opinion to Commissioner Ellison, decided that so far as its right in New York City is concerned the old franchise in point is dead. On that opinion the Commissioner of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity refused the permit asked for.

Judge Parker recited the history of the franchise and the twenty-three years of litigation in which it has been involved.

He declared that the law passed after the completion of the city's present electrical system forbidding the opening of the streets for new conduits except when there was public necessity for it, stood at that time, did not forbid the granting of the permit now asked for by the Great Eastern Company, because the "public necessity" had now arisen.

"The Electric Lines Company fought the Bell monopoly clear up through the courts of the State and finally got from the Supreme Court of the United States in 1892 the declaration of its corporate and corporate rights," said Judge Parker. "Then the law had been passed at Albany, and as there was no public necessity for it, they got no permit to build conduits."

"At the rate of 1,000 telephones a day, sometime the people of this city are going to demand delivery of the Great Eastern Company. This is the old and long fight of the independent telephone companies against the old monopoly. If that company's business is $2,000,000 a year, as its report shows, does not that prove that there is room and necessity for the new company?"

"The story of the fight of the independent companies with the monopoly has been the same everywhere. It forced the Bell company to reduce its rates, as they have promised to do here, and thus the people have benefited by the appearance of these rivals to monopoly."

The applications for this permit was met with the statement that the Electric Lines Company had ceased to exist one year and one day after its incorporation. The permit was refused because of failure to operate under its franchise, and the permit was refused.

"There seems to be an impression that the Common Council grants franchises. This is wrong. The State grants franchises. The municipal authorities are sometimes wisely given the power to give consent and fix the terms between the city and the applicant of consent to use a public privilege under its franchise."

Tracy C. Becker, representing the New York Electric Lines Company, followed briefly. He said the company had 20,000 telephones in the State and 400,000 in the greater cities and 4,000,000 in the United States.

Mr. Burr declared in opposition that this was not a question of public demand, but was one of whether the new telephone company, which received its franchise in this city in 1883, shall now, after twenty-three years of failure to avail itself of that privilege, be allowed to take it by enforcement.

"These public franchises form the most valuable asset of this city," said Mr. Burr. "It is our contention that they cannot be permitted to exercise those privileges now without surrendering sections of the city charter made for the protection of the city."

Decision was reserved.

LOST PURSE AS SHE WAS ABOUT TO SAIL

Young Woman Dropped $1,000 Letter of Credit, but It Was Restored.

Just before the White Star line steamship Cedric sailed for Liverpool this afternoon an excited young woman rushed into the office of the line on the pier and informed the clerk that she had lost a pocketbook containing a $1,000 letter of credit, two gold watches, a dollar in change and some private papers.

They had hardly succeeded in calming her when Michael Williams, foreman on the dock, came in and laid the missing pocketbook on the desk. He said that he had found it lying on the crowded dock and that the young woman was lucky to get it back.

She insisted on rewarding him, but Williams said that it was his duty to turn in found articles and that he needed no reward.

On the Cedric sailed T. Nakagawa, member of the Board of Naval Construction, Tokio. He has been in this country studying the iron and steel works in Pittsburgh.

Mr. Nakagawa said that his Government was to put up a large plant in Tokio to turn out material for battle ships, armor plate and steel rails for the railroads building in Korea and Manchuria. He said that since 8-9 war the Government had spent $20,000,000 in railroad building.

Others on the Cedric were: Ramon G. Fuenes, Charge d'Affaires at St. Petersburg; R. T. Baylis, Mrs. Augusta Daly, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Edward Pisk, Miss Elizabeth Kellas, Rev. Shepherd Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Marburg, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Satterlee, Mrs. F. T. Satterlee, W. H. Todd, Miss Olive Vexler and Mrs. J. F. White.

Postmaster William R. Willcox smiled more than is usual even with him today. It finally was learned, and Mr. Willcox confirmed the fact, that a little daughter had arrived at his house last night. Mrs. Willcox was Miss Mary Haveremeyer, a daughter of Mr. William F. Haveremeyer.

The postmaster was in receipt of congratulations by telephone all day.

MUNYON'S VICTORY

He Wins in the Fight Against Disease, Poisonous Drugs and Old-Fogysim

For fifteen years I have been warning the people against the use of medicine containing morphine, opium, salicylic acid, alcohol and other dangerous ingredients. At first I was roundly condemned by certain bigoted physicians, as well as thousands of people who had no faith whatever in Homeopathy. They claimed my little pellets as nothing but sugar; they refused to believe the testimony of thousands of people who had declared that they had been cured by my remedies. Gradually the prejudice has worn away; steadily people have begun to see the truth of Hahnemann's great teachings. To-day Homeopathy is established in nearly every town throughout America. Mothers have become the family doctor or nurse. They know that these pellets contain no dangerous drugs. They know that there is no danger of over-dosage. Even physicians who are most prejudiced against Homeopathy are now obliged to acknowledge the wonderful curative qualities of these quickly acting pellets. I want every person who is suffering, no matter what medicine you have taken or how many doctors have failed to cure you, to lay aside all prejudice, all other medicines, and give my little pellets a fair trial.

Munyon's Rheumatism Cure seldom fails to relieve sharp shooting pains in all parts of the limbs and body in a few hours and cures in a few days. Price 25 cents.

Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure is guaranteed to cure all forms of indigestion and stomach troubles. Price 25c.

Munyon's Kidney Cure speedily cures pains in the back, head or groin, and all forms of kidney disease. Price 25c.

Munyon's Headache Cure stops headache in three minutes. Price 25c.

Munyon's Blood Cure eradicates all impurities of the blood. Price 25c.

Munyon's Cold Cure cures Croup, Pneumonia and breaks up a cold in a few hours. Price 25c.

Because

Some of the Reasons Why The Big Store is Doing the Largest Retail Business in New York.

Because we let our customers educate us in the kinds of goods we should sell; we do not try to educate them as to the kinds of goods they should buy.

Because economies here are real. We make lowest prices a fact—not a phrase.

Because no store in the country is more watchful against exaggeration; it is the unpardonable sin; neither haste nor enthusiasm can excuse it.

Because we accept the return of goods and make refund of money with less fuss than any store in America; we ask no more reason than that the customer desires it. The only exceptions are those which refer to the cleanliness of stock and the protection of the next buyer.

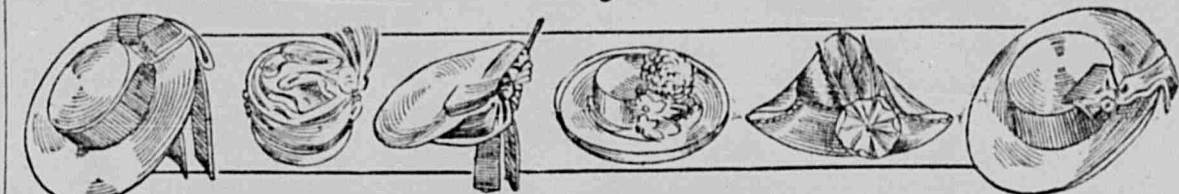

Because we try just as hard to make our own employees contented and comfortable as we try to make our customers pleased and satisfied.

Because we guarantee our prices just as we guarantee our goods and refund money in any case in which a lower price than ours is found to have existed elsewhere on the same goods the same day.

Because we choose goods as carefully as any store can (having the same rights in the market as any, and greater power than most) and sell them for less money than others because our greater business enables us to buy for less money and to sell for less profit.

Because we tell the truth—not near-truth or part truth.
